George VI Opens Anglo Parliament

Calls for Nationalization of Gas Industry in Socialist Speech

By TOM WILLIAMS

London, Oct. 21 (AP)—King George VI opened a new session of Parliament today and in a speech written by his Socialist ministers called for nationalization of the British gas industry and for a curb on the power of the ancient House of Lords. He gave top priority, however, to economic recovery.

Both Houses sat together in the Lords Chamber for the ceremony starting the third legislative year under the Labor government.

Seated on a gold throne, the King read his 15-minute speech slowly and deliberately with scarcely a pause. On his left sat the Queen; on his right, Princess Elizabeth, attending her first state opening and looking demure in a long-sleeved dress of dusty pink ermine.

In 10 words the King announced the government's momentous decision to trim the authority of the Lords.

"Legislation will be introduced to amend the Parliament Act, 1911" (their authority is set out in that act).

A high government source confirmed this cryptic statement was an announcement of a cabinet decision, reached yesterday, to limit the power of the peers.

"A bill will be laid before you to bring the gas industry under public ownership in the completion of the plan for the coordination of the fuel and power industries," the King said, giving a preview of the Socialist program for the coming year.

No mention was made of nationalization of the iron and steel industry, another Socialist objective. Political observers expressed belief that the government might be holding off on this until it could restrict the lords' authority and thus make sure the lords could not obstruct such a move.

"The first aim of my ministers," the King declared, "will be to redress the adverse balance of payments, particularly by expanding exports."

He said his government would "continue to participate in the work of European reconstruction put in hand in the recent conference in Paris."

"The present obstacles to co-operation and understanding between the peoples of the world," he said, "have strengthened the determination of my government to support the United Nations and to seek by that means to promote the mutual trust and tolerance on which peaceful progress depends."

The new legislative projects outlined in the king's speech, drafted by Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his ministers, "numbered nearly a score. The plan to clip the peers' power was the most controversial."

The overwhelming Conservative majority in the House of Lords is in contrast to the Labor majority in the House of Commons. One well informed political observer speculated that the Conservative opposition would demand that the whole issue of the lords' authority be submitted to the country at an early general election on the grounds the government has no electoral mandate for reform in the House of Lords.

The king and queen drove in state from Buckingham Palace through throngs of spectators lining fog-shrouded streets and were greeted at Parliament Square by a 41-gun salute. Princess Elizabeth

Montana Gets Snow, Rest of U.S. Warmth

By The Associated Press

The mercury dropped to freezing and snow fell in Montana today but clear skies and temperatures near midsummer levels were forecast for most of the country.

The snowfall at Catbank, Mont., near the Canadian border, came after the cool weather which has prevailed in the Pacific northwest spread into Montana, Idaho and Wyoming.

Another day of temperatures in the 90s was forecast for South Dakota after yesterday's high marks, including 98 at Tyndall in the southeastern section of the state. The reading equaled the nation's high at Phoenix, Ariz., and two degrees above the 96 at Yuma, Ariz.

Temperatures throughout the midwest were 10 to 25 degrees above normal.

Big Naval Vessel Will Visit City For Five-Day Stay

Destroyer Minesweeper Will Be Here to Mark Navy Day; Open to Public

The U.S.S. Ellison, one of the Navy's largest destroyer minesweepers and a veteran of Pacific and Atlantic warfare, will steam up the Hudson to Kingston Friday for a five-day stay here in connection with the Navy Day celebration, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, in a letter to Herman E. Gottfried, senior officer in the naval reserve here and counsel in charge of the water supply division, New York City Corporation Counsel's office.

The big vessel will be open to the public for inspection during its stay here. Gottfried announced the ship, which is 348 feet long with a 36-foot beam, is one of those developed to meet the demands of modern invasion warfare. It was built in 1940 by the Federal Shipbuilding Company at Kearney, N. Y.

It was necessary for the Navy to develop a fast minesweeper for the purpose of clearing the sea lanes for the fleet," Gottfried said in making his announcement. "It was for that reason that fast-moving mine sweepers were used in all invasions, both in the Atlantic and the Pacific."

The ship, whose complement usually numbers about 200 officers and men, will arrive here Friday, October 24, and will stay until October 28. Navy Day is Saturday, October 25.

It was ordered to Kingston by the Secretary of the Navy in recognition of the city's role in the war.

Lack of Housing, Fading Parks Are Scored by Turck

Says Both Are Important Considerations for Voters to Decide at Polls

Low cost housing and the importance of city parks were touched upon by Charles J. Turck, Republican candidate for alderman at large in his speech last night at a ward meeting attended by members of the city committee and candidates.

This is the first time in my life I have ever been a candidate for public office. Therefore, I feel it my duty to discuss the office for which I have been nominated, that of alderman at large, and to touch on some of the issues of the campaign, low-cost housing and city parks.

Housing is important to many, especially our young folks; who want to marry and raise families. And parks are very near and dear to the hearts of those who have youngsters. The children of Kingston must have appropriate places to play. Play helps build strong bodies. There's nothing so important as helping our young folks grow into strong men and women. America must be kept healthy.

I'll start by saying a few words about the office I seek, alderman at large, and the Common Council over which he presides.

My main point in doing this is to let you know I have familiarized myself with the job that will be mine if you see fit to elect me at the polls.

At Common Council meeting, the alderman at large takes charge of seeing that parliamentary rules and the rules of the Council are followed with respect to dates, the introduction of resolutions, the referring of resolutions, and to the proper committees, and to receiving committee reports.

It is the duty of the alderman at large to advise the council on points or order, either when called upon to do so or when, in his opinion, it is necessary. The alderman-at-large as presiding officer may not participate in debates and does not vote, except in case of a tie.

Government under our American system is divided into three branches: The legislative, which makes the laws; the executive, which enforces them and the judicial, which passes on their legality. As you know the alderman you elect in your ward is your legislative representative in the council.

In addition to its law-making powers, the Common Council may also subpoena witnesses for examination upon any matter within its jurisdiction and may also examine any officer of the city in regard to his official acts. Under the charter the Common Council has jurisdiction over city property and records, with the exception of those under the control of the Board of Education. The Common Council may authorize the borrowing of money, sanction the issuance of bonds by the city, order special elections, designate the official newspapers of the city, impose taxes and license fees, and also act as a Board of Canvassers to certify the names of candidates elected to public office. By a two-thirds vote, the Common Council

Commission Says State University Is Unnecessary

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—An informed source said today that Governor Dewey's special commission studying the need for a state university had rejected the idea of establishing a university in the traditional sense, with campus and physical plant.

The source said the 30-member commission, which conducted a public hearing yesterday, was considering:

1. Expansion of professional training, especially medicine, either within the framework of existing institutions or through new facilities.

2. A sharp increase in the number of state scholarships awarded annually.

Another official said the commission also was considering a system of two-year junior colleges throughout the state.

The State Board of Regents has recommended that the number of Regents scholarships for college study be increased to 3,000 annually and to 12,000 outstanding over four years.

No present maximum is 750 annually and 3,000 in four years. The scholarships pay $350 toward tuition.

Chairman Owen D. Young announced that preparation of a final report would begin after the commission's next meeting, October 29. He said the report might be completed in November.

Medical school spokesmen told the commission they were opposed to expansion of present facilities for training doctors and to creation of a state medical college.

They were among 32 speakers who appeared at the first public hearing yesterday in behalf of religious, educational, veterans', parents, and student groups.

No one spoke against a state university.

Former Governor Lehman's suggestion that a state university system be implemented by an act outlawing what he termed "discriminatory practices" of present institutions, drew opposition from the Association of Colleges and Universities.

The association submitted a brief declaring:

"There is no such thing as a policy of discrimination on the ground of race, color or creed. The few instances of discrimination that may have occurred are infinitesimal in comparison with the thousands of persons belonging to minority groups who have enjoyed the benefits of our voluntary, non-profit making educational facilities."

Nearly a score of speakers joined with Lehman to condemn what they said was discriminatory in admission policies.

Dean Willard C. Rappleye of the Columbia University College of Medicine, said New York state had sufficient facilities for training doctors and had one doctor per 511 residents compared to a national average of one per 719.

The problem, he said, was one of distribution.

State Group Takes Stand Opposing Halt in Brewing

Several From This County Attend Convention in Brooklyn Hotel

The State Restaurant and Liquor Dealers Association, meeting in Brooklyn, unanimously passed resolutions opposing the plan to curtail the use of grain by brewers and supporting the plan for a 60-day suspension by distilleries, Robert E. Teetsel announced today.

Teetsel, president of the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association, and proprietor of The Barn here, was appointed chairman of the resolution committee of the state convention, held last week at the St. George Hotel, Brooklyn.

Other members of the Ulster county group attending the convention included:

Mr. and Mrs. George Broome, of Thornton's Grill, Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Tresider, of Midway Tavern, Saugerties; Emil Jordan, of Chez Emile, Kingston; Jack Griffin of the Irish House, Catskill; Joseph Weber of the Grove Inn, Catskill; and Fred Egger of the Log Cabin, Catskill.

Resolutions adopted unanimously included the following:

"It is resolved that this association oppose the Luckman policy of curtailing the brewers' use of grain not including wheat, and to hinder them in carrying on their production of beverages for the American citizen while foreign countries are exporting liquor and beer to this country which is made possible by the American government exporting grain abroad free."

It is hereby resolved that the members of this association whenever possible refrain from the purchase of liquor for 60 days in keeping with the request of the President that all distilleries suspend operation for 60 days. It is recognized that the distilleries have large supplies on hand in government warehouses.

The association also resolved that "no dry community should receive from the state government any fund derived from taxes on alcoholic beverages," and urged tavern men to "make a special effort to sell draught beer rather than bottle beer."

V.E.W. Back Police

Joyce Schirck Post, 1980, Veterans of Foreign Wars, went on record at a recent meeting as being wholeheartedly in support of a salary increase for members of the local police department. The veterans' resolution asked support of the public in voting in favor of the pay boost in the November election.

Movie Critic Testifies Reading Sections of Publishing Houses Heavily Infiltrated Strongly Resisted

Actor Believes That Herbert Sorrell 'Is a Communist'

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Movie critic John Charles Moffitt of Los Angeles told Congress members today that "Broadway is practically dominated" by Communists.

Moffitt followed Actor Adolphe Menjou to the witness chair in the investigation of the House committee on un-American activities of Communist influences in Hollywood.

Menjou had testified that Hollywood is one of the main centers of Communist activity in America and said he had "heard" that John Howard Lawson, film writer, is head of the Communists there but cannot prove it.

First off, the plump mustached Moffitt loosed a volley at the eastern seaboard entertainment center.

Asked by Robert E. Stripling, chief committee investigator, for his opinion of the extent to which Communists influence the theatre, Moffitt said:

"The reading departments of publishing houses have been very, very heavily infiltrated by Communists. 'Broadway is practically dominated' by them."

"Hollywood, I believe, is the only place where they have been strongly resisted."

Forty-four of 100 plays produced on Broadway between 1936 and the current season, Moffitt averred, "contain material to further the Communist line and 32 others favored Communism."

Names Lawson

Menjou, after naming Lawson, also testified he believed Herbert Sorrell, head of the Conference of Studio Unions, "is a Communist."

With a wave of his hand, he said he would question the loyalty of anyone publicly associating with Sorrell.

He was asked, as a member of the Screen Actors Guild, if he knows of any members who are Communists.

"No," he replied, "But I know a great many people who act an awful lot like Communists."

Testimony Made Public

Before questioning Menjou, the committee made public testimony he gave a subcommittee in secret in Los Angeles last May 15.

This disclosed that Menjou declared at that time that Hollywood is one of the main centers of Communist activities in America.

He also expressed the opinion then that "it is the desire of the masters in Moscow" to use movies as a propaganda medium toward the ultimate end of an overthrow of the American government.

Menjou said he has no doubt that Communists in the United States are agents of Moscow and are engaged in "treasonable activity."

Outlaw Communist Party

He urged that Congress outlaw the Communist party because "it is not a political party; it is a conspiracy to overthrow the government by force." He also suggested that Congress should "outlaw propaganda pictures to be labeled as such."

Colleges, Universities Have All-Time Enrollment Peak

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—New York colleges and universities are packed to overflowing with an all-time enrollment eight per cent above last year's record levels.

An Associated Press survey today showed 242,009 students registered in 54 major institutions, compared to 223,909 who last year opened the post-war assault on the halls of higher learning.

As one registrar put it: "A year ago we were packed to the rafters. This fall we're packed to the tops of the roofs."

New Paltz State Teachers College filled every bed in the vicinity, officials said, and then was forced to turn down 180 students for lack of housing. An emergency dormitory is under construction.

The percentage of veterans remained the same as last year, 45, although indications that the peak has been reached were seen in reports from several institutions that the number of veterans in freshman classes had declined sharply from last year.

Veterans totaled 110,125, against a previous high of 101,266 in 1946.

Approximately 50 per cent of the student bodies of co-educational schools were ex-servicemen. Inclusion of girls' schools in the survey, however, lowered the over-all percentage.

In many cases, institutions were able to accommodate more students than last year through summer-time expansion of housing and classroom facilities, and by enlarging their instructional staffs.

State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stichman, declaring that enrollments are double the 1946 figures, said:

Meet the Candidates

JACOB J. DONOVAN

Jacob J. Donovan, Republican candidate for supervisor of the town of Lloyd, has been active in the civic, business and political life of the Town of Lloyd for 37 years.

During these 37 years he has been engaged in the retail-wholesale florist business. Starting with two greenhouses with 9,000 square feet of glass, today he has five houses with 16,000 square feet in Highland and two large greenhouses in Milton.

Supervisor Donovan is a past master of Adonai Lodge, F. & A. M., Highland; past noble grand of Sunshine Lodge, I. O. O. F., Highland; past deputy grand master I. O. O. F., Ulster Co., and past deputy grand chancellor, Knights of Pythias, Ulster county. He is also a member of the board of trustees of the Highland Presbyterian church and Highland Grange.

In 1937 Mr. Donovan was elected justice of the peace in the town of Lloyd but before his term had expired he resigned as justice and was appointed supervisor to fill out the unexpired term of Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, who was serving as supervisor at the time he was elected to the State Assembly.

In 1941 Mr. Donovan was elected to the office of supervisor for the full term. So well had he performed his duties as supervisor during his temporary appointment that he was unopposed in the 1941 election. Two years later he was re-elected by an unprecedented majority. And now he comes up for re-election again without Democratic opposition.

Supervisor Donovan received his education in the public schools of Plattkill and Milton. At an early age he began to earn his own living. He learned the florist business under the best florists in this neighborhood and each year has found him a little higher on the ladder of business success.

By his energy, interest in his work and a desire to give the best in him, Jacob J. Donovan is one of Highland's most successful business men. His fellow townsmen have confidence in him. They appreciate his tact, his business acumen and his interest in everything that pertains to the welfare of the town of Lloyd. When they entrust the affairs of the town in Mr. Donovan's hand, they know that they are safe and that for another two years the town of Lloyd will be well represented locally and in the county of Ulster as well, for Mr. Donovan stands high in the estimate of the entire county board of supervisors.

The town of Lloyd is to be congratulated in Mr. Donovan's willingness to serve it for another term as supervisor.

Thomas Hoffman Popular Candidate

Probably one of the best known candidates for public office on the Republican ticket is Thomas E. Hoffman, seeking election as alderman of the 13th Ward.

Tommy is not only a young man with political ambition, but a fellow with a sunny personality, who'll step into a church or club minstrel and "give out" with ballads that have made him popular with those who like good music.

His specialties are Irish numbers. This is because of his tenor voice, presumably, Tommy attends Holy Name Church, and whenever that Wilbur congregation holds a show, he's always one of the stars. He's well known to athletes and grandstand fans at local events, too, especially baseball games.

That "Hi, Tommy," greeting as he strolls in means Hoffman is in his place ready to cheer the boys on, josh the umpire and enjoy the game with his friends, grownups and kids alike.

One seasoned veteran of political campaigns remarked, "If everybody who has been giving Tommy a big hello for years turns his sentiments into a vote at the polls, there'll be no question about an overwhelming majority."

A native of New York city, he removed to this section when he was 12 years old in 1922 and became a real Wilburite. He's as loyal to his neighborhood as any of its dyed-in-the-wool patriots who first saw the light of day there.

When it's "Wilbur against the world," as the old saying goes, count Hoffman in for a real fight in favor of his neighbors.

Tommy's present residence is at 715 Abbot street.

A graduate of School No. 1, he went to work in the Apollo Magneto Corporation factory as an employee in the assembly department. That was in 1926.

In 1941, when Apollo sold out to Electrol Incorporated, he was retained by the new owners who raised him to a responsible position as floor inspector in precision machine parts.

Any of his fellow workers will tell you, "Tommy's a swell guy with a grand personality." And, management will add to it that he's an industrious worker into the bargain.

From his boyhood, Mr. Hoffman has been interested in the affairs of the 13th Ward, especially in regard to their ties with civic affairs of Kingston. Aldermen in the Common Council will probably hear a lot from Tommy, if he's elected, as he proposes measures for the good of fellow Wilburites and interests himself in affairs pertaining to the advancement of Kingston in general.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—God gave a gift called morning—but few people get up to see it.

It takes a long time to convert the ordinary man to an appreciation of morning. It has taken me about thirty-six years. I don't know whether that's above or below par.

Everybody agrees sunset is wonderful. But I am sure that mankind is forever divided on the question of whether the sunrise is worth while.

You can't count the playboys and play girls who see the sun swim over the horizon on their way home from the catch-dollar night spots. To them sunrise is sunset—a golden lamp that lights them to a late bed, where they lie ache-ridden. Their lives are as upside down as toast on top of chicken a la king.

Farmers sometimes become so accustomed to the beauty of morning that they take it for granted—like the man in the Louvre in Paris who dusts the face of Mona Lisa. The immortal enigma of her smile has become commonplace to him. He would notice her only if the famous paint cracked in a sudden belly laugh. Then he would love her. But most of us meet morning town; Mrs. Stephen Gardecki, East Kingston, Ulster; Mrs. Genevieve Tinnie, Port Jervis.

Mrs. Edgar Clarke, Milton, Marlborough; Mrs. Herbert Campbell, Highland, Lloyd; Mrs. LeRoy Davis, Olive Bridge, Olive; Mrs. John Gill, Hurley; Mrs. Donald Beattie, New Paltz; Mrs. Charles King, Woodstock; and Mrs. Gregory Badger, Kingston.

Chinese Internationalist To Speak at Bard College

Annandale-on-Hudson — "The Future of the United Nations" will be the subject of an address to be given by Miss Hilda Yet-Sen Yen, head of the Speakers Section of the Department of Public Information at the United Nations, Thursday at 8 p. m., at Bard College. The meeting is open to the public, at no charge.

Miss Yen, who was a pilot in the Chinese Air Force during the early years of the war, has served in many nations as a representative of the Chinese Government.

only on an intermittent basis, and sunrise is a rare surprise. For many years I hated morning bitterly. You can't take her with a sense of duty, and that was all I greeted her with. I was nine years old and I got up an hour before the sun did to gather the newspapers I delivered.

To me morning was a frosty hazard in winter and a clammy obstacle in summer. The rising sun in July was only a portent of sweaty torment. In February only a frozen promise.

I guess you have to know a little about life to appreciate a sunrise, and a boy throwing papers doesn't know that. I thought only that when the sun came up I was much nearer to the end of my route—and breakfast, and school. And school I loved then because it was warm and sure, and I could drop the pack that wore my shoulder sore.

Because I had to drag myself unwillingly from sleep at 4 a. m., I learned to hate sunrise and morning. Night became my life-long friend because it stood for exciting loneliness and comfort and the easing of childhood problems. I feared its mystery as children and savages do, but I loved it, too. It meant the brief security of sleep and a place out of the cold.

When I was quit of throwing morning newspapers I turned to this solace of night, and for twenty-five years I have done most of my work after the sun went down.

I long have thought that darkness gives a lift to the imagination, and in some ways it does. But recently I became reacquainted with early rising and made the first friendship of my life with morning.

Dawn is still a wet, clammy, cold and shuddery hour of the day to me, but it leads to something—a spiritual clearness and perspective that night obscures.

After living half my life I've found the meaning in sunrise, and now I wonder how I could have been blind to its beauty so many years.

But it's nice to know that at any age the world still holds something you can grow up to.

Patricia Schmidt Is Near Hysteria, Because of Delay

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 21 (AP)—Patricia (Satira) Schmidt was reported to be near hysteria today in her prison cell because of another delay in her oft-postponed trial on a charge of murdering her lover, John Lester Moe of Chicago, aboard his yacht, last April.

The three-judge Cuban court, apparently irked because an attorney and 45 witnesses failed to appear when the court reconvened yesterday after a week-end recess, postponed the trial to October 31. Patricia and American witnesses here for the trial were shocked at the delay, the fifth since the case was first set down for trial.

The 22-year-old Toledo, O., dancer first was called for trial on September 17, but the case was postponed until September 29, at the request of the prosecution. On September 29, Miss Schmidt said she was ill and the case was postponed until October 8. The trial started October 8, but after hearing one day of testimony from Miss Schmidt, the court recessed for five days because of the celebration of Cuban Independence Day. On October 13 the trial got under way in earnest and the court heard Patricia's story for three days, before the illness of an attorney, Israel Soto Barroso, caused another day's delay, on the 16th.

The court heard Miss Schmidt finish her testimony on the 17th, adjourned for the week-end and yesterday morning pronounced the new postponement to October 31, which is on a Friday. That means the court will sit for one day and adjourn for the week-end, because Cuban courts never work on Saturday.

Yesterday's adjournment caused many of the American witnesses, and reporters here to cover the trial, to return home pending resumption of the hearing. There was no explanation as to why the witnesses were not present when court began yesterday, but Soto Barroso said he arrived 15 minutes late because he had been at a doctor's office.

Miss Schmidt is accused of firing the bullet April 8 which struck Moe in the throat. He died April 13. She has testified she fired the shot in a violent quarrel which ensued when she learned he was married.

New Book Out

GEORGE VICTOR MARTIN

Woodstock, Oct. 21—Mark It With a Stone, new book by George Victor Martin of this village, was scheduled for release by the publishers today. Exceptions are that it will be in greater demand than his novel, Our Vines Have Tender Grapes, which was made into a movie and had its premiere in Radio City Music Hall, New York.

The new story is a psychological one about a neurotic veteran who marries a motherly type of woman because of a very definite complex the cause for which is traced back to his early years spent in an orphanage. The events in the lives of these two people who live in the cold atmosphere of the Montana Bad Lands makes for a tragic story as the title implies.

Sportsmen's Bake Draws 138 Sunday

Woodstock, Oct. 21—Members of the Woodstock Fish and Game Club and those of the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club met together for the first time on Sunday when a clambake was held at the Wittenberg clubhouse. It was learned that in the future these two organizations will unite in their efforts for the good of the entire town of Woodstock in stocking the streams and woods. It is reported that this year 18,000 legal sized trout, between 7 and 11 inches were put out as well as some 4,500 four-inch trout; 200 pheasant 10 weeks old and 15 dozen cottontails.

Permission has been received to post properties in the township and this will be attended to in the very near future.

Both of these clubs are members of the Federated Sportsmen's Club of Ulster county.

At Sunday's clambake, 138 persons were served with a net-profit to each of the clubs of $125.

Officers and members were delighted with the results of their first united effort and look forward to many future ones.

American History Is Discussed by Mrs. Schoonmaker

Woodstock, Oct. 21—American history came to life on Sunday evening when the Woodstock Discussion Group met at the home of Miss Elsa Kimball where Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker unfolded its pages in a dramatic lecture beginning with the first settlers in America. Said Mrs. Schoonmaker, "This, our America, has done more for people than any country in the world. It has made us what we are. It is worth preserving. It is worth preserving at any cost."

Long a student of history, Mrs. Schoonmaker, who resides in Woodstock, has specialized in international relations and was sent to Europe in 1938 to make a survey of political activities among women veterans. In this survey, eight countries were covered. A representative for women's activities and international affairs in the League of Nations, Mrs. Schoonmaker has lectured all over the United States.

Woodstock, Oct. 21—The fourth meeting of the Sub-District Youth Institute will be held at Margaretville Methodist Church on Friday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock. All Woodstock members are urged to attend this meeting, the theme of which will be "The Bible in Our Faith."

Woodstock members of the Progressive Citizens of America will meet this evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Fitz Patrick, Ohayo Mountain Road, at 8:15.

The recent donation of $200 to the War Memorial was made by the entire organization of the Woodstock Market Fair rather than by a smaller group as incorrectly reported last week.

There are but a few days left for submitting designs and ideas to be considered for the Woodstock War Memorial. Albert Graesser and his design committee will meet on Thursday evening, October 23, in the town clerk's office to study the many suggestions and plans which must be submitted prior to that time, in order to receive proper consideration.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Double of 1 N. T. Is for Business

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

With most experts any double of a no trump is for business. The no trump is used as a denial of strength. For example, if you open the bidding with one heart, next hand passes, and your partner has a very weak hand, he bids one no trump. A double of that no trump often can get a good penalty.

Your partner also may bid the no trump to deny your suit bid. Few experts would double Mrs. Helen Sobel of New York for business, but nevertheless that is what happened on today's hand in the world championship pair event.

West opened the four of hearts,

 ♠ A 10 6 5 3 ♥ 2 ♦ Q 7 4 ♣ A 7 4 3 	 ♠ J 8 7 2 ♥ A 9 8 5 ♦ 3 ♣ A 5 J 9
 ♠ K 4 ♥ Q 6 4 ♦ J 10 3 ♣ K 10 8 6 5 	 ♠ J 8 7 2 ♥ A 9 8 5 ♦ 3 ♣ A 5 J 9
 ♠ Q 2 ♥ K J 10 7 ♦ K 9 8 2 ♣ Q 2 	 ♠ Q 2 ♥ K J 10 7 ♦ K 9 8 2 ♣ Q 2

Tournament—Both vul.

East won with the ace and came back with the five of hearts, which went to West's queen. The heart was returned, Mrs. Sobel won with the jack, and led a small diamond. East won dummy's queen with the ace, and knocked out Mrs. Sobel's king of hearts. Another small diamond was played, West won with the jack, and for want of a better lead came back with the three of diamonds.

Mrs. Sobel then cashed two rounds of diamonds, and West had to bare down the king and ten of clubs.

Now when the nine of spades was led by Mrs. Sobel, West saw that he was about to be end-played, so he threw on the king of spades. But of course this established the queen for Mrs. Sobel, and the ace of club gave her an over-trick on her doubled contract.

Supreme Court Plans Constitutionality Ruling

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Supreme Court will rule on constitutionality of a New York law that requires payment to the state of the face amounts of "abandoned" life insurance.

The court agreed yesterday to the review asked by a group of insurance companies incorporated in other states and licensed to do business in New York state. New York's Court of Appeals has upheld validity of the abandoned property law provision.

The companies claim the requirement violates the federal constitution's guarantee against impairment of contract obligations.

The companies are: The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance, Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance, National Life Insurance, Aetna Life Insurance, the Prudential Life Insurance and the Union Mutual Life Insurance.

The water must be boiling

Boil a crockery teapot. Put in one teaspoonful of tea or one tea-bag for each person. Add fresh, "bubbling" boiling water. Steep for five minutes. Stir, then serve.

Woman Identifies Man as Attacker

Mrs. Marion Richards, 24, Says R. D. Davis Killed Friend

Dracut, Mass., Oct. 21 (AP)—The estranged wife of a soldier serving in Italy walked into the operating room of an Arlington hospital during the night and State Police Capt. Joseph Crescio said, identified an air-force veteran as the roadside slayer of her companion and her assailant in a nightmarish kidnap-ride. Crescio said that Mrs. Marion Richards, 24, mother of two children, took a quick look at the man, still under the effects of anesthesia, and identified him as the person who had stabbed and bludgeoned to death her friend, Edward Pace, 32, also a veteran, and then raped her in repeated attacks.

Crescio named the man as Russell D. Davis, 23, and said he will be arraigned on a charge of murder upon recovery. Surgeons had removed two bullets from his stomach shortly before Mrs. Richards made her dramatic entrance to the operating room. The police captain said he had attempted suicide.

The officer quoted Mrs. Richards as saying that a man carrying a double-barrel shotgun appeared at the door of their automobile as she and Pace were parked on a lonely road late Sunday night.

Crescio said she related how the man bludgeoned and stabbed Pace to death and then took her on a wild ride through the north-only section of Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire, forcing her to strip.

The police captain said she reported she was attacked several times during the four hours the man held her prisoner in his car, leaving her with the admonition: "Keep quiet until I have a chance to get away."

Davis was found several hours later, slumped in his automobile in Arlington. Physicians said his condition was "fair" after the operation and that he will recover.

Police quoted Mrs. Richards as saying that Davis and Pace had been friends and that she had seen them together only a few nights before the killing.

Pocket Philosophy
Put your troubles in Life's pocket, but be sure a hole is in it. Then, when you have lost your sadness, darn the hole and fill with gladness!

Neighbor—If I had a this wife of yours, my friend, there isn't anything I wouldn't do for her.
Man— "I'll say there isn't. You'd wash the dishes, clean up the house, cook the meals, and do everything else she asked you, or know the reason why."

A genius is a man who never makes the same mistake twice.

A man was smashed up in a railroad accident. The family received a wire saying, "Mr. Hess in railroad wreck. Both legs, both arms, back and neck broken, and skull fractured." After a few hours a second dispatch arrived. "Not so bad as first reported. One arm not broken."

Bob— Aren't you coming in swimming?
Bertha—I can't. A moth ate my bathing suit.
Bob—The little rascal. He must have been on a diet.

Hewitt— You don't seem to think much of Jim.
Jewett—If he had his conscience taken out it would be a minor operation.

Landlady—So Mr. Newboard has found something fresh to complain about this morning.
Maid—No, mum, it's the eggs.

Lady—What is that peculiar odor I get from that field?
Farmer—That's fertilizer.
Lady—Oh, for the land's sake!
Farmer—Yes, lady.

Our idea of stagnation is a nation without women.

Stranger—Good morning (to woman who has answered the door bell where a room was advertised for rent).—Would you like to buy some insect powder?
Wife—No. I have no use for such stuff.
Stranger—Good. I will take that room you are advertising.

Jean—I hate to think of my 29th birthday.
Jane—Why, what happened?

Women's Missionary Union of Classis of Ulster Meeting

Conference at Reformed Church Features Talks by Missionaries to Foreign Lands

Three talks, two by missionaries to foreign lands, featured the fall conference of the Women's Missionary Union of the Classis of Ulster last week at the Reformed Church of the Comforter.

The speakers were Mrs. Ashley K. Auryansen of the Foreign and Domestic Mission Boards; Mrs. Nicholas Gosselink of Grayhawk, Tenn.; and Miss Belle Bogard, missionary to Japan.

The morning session opened at 10 o'clock with Mrs. R. G. Johnston presiding. Following a worship period led by the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier, pastor, the annual business of the union was discussed.

After a report on the treasury by Miss Elizabeth DeWitt, the roll call was conducted by Mrs. Charles Doly. The reports of the various groups revealed a spirit of interest and activity throughout the county.

Mrs. H. B. Reed reported on the missionary activities of the organization, followed by Mrs. Stephen Ryder's account of the work and ideals of the committee on spiritual life.

Mrs. Harry Wesp, representing the baby roll reported 53 babies enrolled and requested that each group endeavor to have all children listed.

Morning Speaker
The president introduced Mrs. Ashley K. Auryansen who spoke on the Foreign and Domestic Mission Boards and who took as the basis of her talk three words, none of which can be spelled without "U"—Church, Universe and Community and showed how churches throughout their missionary efforts are helping make the universe truly one world.

This work begins at our own doors, the speaker said and spreads out through local communities to far lands from the migrant workers in our own areas to the people of Arabia, Japan and the far corners of the globe. She closed with the thought, "It all comes back to you."

The morning session closed with a hymn followed by prayer offered by the Rev. Albert Shultis. After a luncheon, the conference resumed at 2 o'clock.

Following an opening hymn and prayer by the Rev. Gerrit Timmer, Mrs. Nicholas Gosselink was introduced and she gave a vivid and encouraging picture of the work now being done in Jackson county, Kentucky.

This mountain area, she said, is a meeting place of the old and new where there are few improved roads and many poor ones. She said there was an occasional automobile but most people walked. Most of the families are poverty-stricken, she disclosed.

She said for every college student there are many illiterates. However, the speaker added, Kentucky is awakening and progress is now the battle cry.

Some of the reasons for the improvement, as given by the speaker, is greater public interest in education, better roads and the work of the Reformed Church.

Thanks Church People
The speaker then closed her talk with the words, "you are the Reformed Church and on behalf of Kentucky, I want to thank you for what you have done and pray for your continued interest."

The address was followed by an offertory solo by Miss Nancy Barnum who sang "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way."

The second speaker of the afternoon was Miss Bogard who took as her theme, "Who Is My Neighbor?" and based her story on the "Good Samaritan."

The speaker said that a map of the world shows that on the west the Japanese are our neighbors and although we may still hate them, they remain our neighbors. She said in Japan there are thousands who claim the same Father as we do and whether we like it or not they are our brothers and sisters.

What would Jesus have us do with our neighbor who is now beaten and stripped, the speaker asked. She answered, "We must, as His followers, bind up his wounds and care for him."

Miss Bogard cited the devastation wrought on Japan by the last war including homes and universities.

The speaker noted that food is strictly rationed in Japan where the diet for most people is almost entirely of rice and vegetables, and then only in meagre quantities. She urged returning missionaries take with them ample supplies of food and clothing to replenish the Japanese people.

Rich and poor in Japan are at the threshold of starvation, she said and conditions there constitute a great hardship for the Christian workers. She said salaries were low and added that pastors must do additional work to help earn a living.

The speaker emphasized the point that the Japanese Christian leaders are not complaining but that they must pay for the sins of their land.

Miss Bogard said that the Japanese want the present work of missionaries to continue and that Gen. Douglas MacArthur wants them to return to continue the work.

Japan is calling for Christianity, she said and thereby hangs a challenge for America. The Japanese feel that the Americans won the war because of their religion.

The conference ended with a closing hymn followed by a prayer and benediction offered by the Rev. Harvey I. Todd.

Cars Will Have Two License Plates in '48

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—License plates will return to the front of New York automobiles next year for the first time since 1941. Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher said today.

The state has limited its issue per car to one plate for the last six years because of the wartime steel shortage. The single plate has been displayed on the rear of the vehicle. Fletcher said motorcycles and trailers still would be limited to one plate.

The 1948 plates—black numerals on a yellow base—will go on sale in early December. Fletcher urged car owners to check up on front license brackets and added a reminder that both front and rear plates must be no lower than 12 and no higher than 48 inches from the ground.

The population of Brazil averages 12.65 people per square mile.

In the average home the cost for this service is only 13c per day. That's far less than the cost of a daily quart of milk!

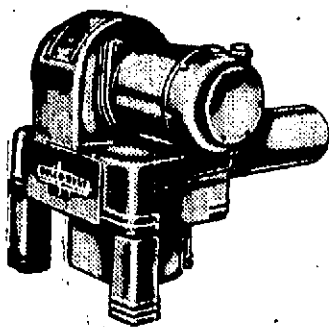

If you do not now have the comfort and labor-saving convenience of automatic hot water flowing from your faucets, you're missing a bet. See your plumber or appliance dealer. He will gladly give you full information.

Piano Team Receives Ovation for Concert in Association Series

The audience at Kingston High School Monday night gave the young American piano team of Arthur Whittemore and Jack Lowe, a deserved ovation for their concert. Not in a long time have artists brought such complete skill, expression, arrangements, unified feeling of interpretation, and variety of material to a concert audience in Kingston.

The concert was the first in this season's series of Kingston Community Concert Association. Opening in concert style the artists played a Sonata in D minor by Beethoven arranged by Danckert which was recently rediscovered and flown to the piano team by a member of the allied occupation forces in Vienna. This piece and the Bach Sonata in E-flat major brought clean-cut, tinkling tones of music written as they were for the clavier. The two piano arrangement of Brahms' Four Waltzes and the Enesco Rhapsody No. 1 while in an entirely different style brought in dance rhythms and in the latter a great amount of pianistic technique.

The piece which brought into play all of the resources of the piano for the resounding bells and merry folk music was Moussorgsky's Coronation Scene from "Boris Godunov." This was most exquisite in its mighty pillars of tone.

Entirely opposite was the shimmering Clair de Lune by Debussy and the quite surprising Nana (Jullaby) by de Falla, a simple warm melody.

With a nod to those who enjoy popular music the piano team played their own arrangements of "That Old Black Magic," by Arlen and Rodgers "Lover," as if these could not complete the modern picture. Whittemore and Lowe played Morton Gould's Guaracha which the program notes stated "represents the South American equivalent of boogie-woogie." The young American composer was represented by Dance Divertimento written by Kent Kennan.

In closing the concert the young men chose an equally fine Ravel composition, "Alborada del Gracioso" from "Miroirs." Their ingratiating style and technical skill brought forth much applause. A few of the forte passages became harsh at times but some of this was remedied during intermission when Gene Castor was called upon to assist in adjusting the tone of one piano.

The six encores were equally as popular: Variations by Liszt and Whittemore and Lowe on Paganini's famous Capriccio No. 24 for violin and piano; Third Movement of Rachmaninoff's popular Piano Concerto; Rayel's Bolero; Fritz Kreisler's Liebesfreud; Leucona's Malaguena; and a humorous polka from "Age of Gold," by Shostakovich.

They played on Steinway Grand.

The next concert will be the Rochester Symphony Orchestra Sunday afternoon, December 14.

Halloween Party Need Not be Expensive

Pumpkin-face sandwiches of peanut butter and raisins for a Halloween party.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Have fun on Halloween—and at the same time save on food without cutting down nutrition standards.

Make pumpkin-face sandwiches—spread bread rounds with peanut butter, then dot with raisins for eyes, nose and mouth. There's protein, calories and minerals. Besides the familiar peanut butter, egg salad, cheese and chopped nuts filling, try peanut butter with chopped dates, grated raw carrots, orange marmalade, chopped prunes, or pickle relish. Piles of these sandwiches, taffy apples, cider and doughnuts, bowls of peanuts and popcorn mean a Halloween party that's fun without food waste.

Sandwich Fillings
One-half cup peanut butter, 1 cup grated raw carrots, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, bread, butter or fortified margarine.
One-half cup orange marmalade, ¼ cup peanut butter, bread, butter or fortified margarine.
One-half cup peanut butter, ½ cup chopped pitted dates, bread, butter or fortified margarine.
One-fourth cup levied ham, ¼ cup peanut butter, ¼ cup chopped sweet pickle, 2 tab spoons mayonnaise, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine.
Taffy Apples
Apples, one cup molasses, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1/3 teaspoon salt, ¼ cup water, 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine.

Wash apples thoroughly and dry well. Tie string to stems of apples. Boil molasses, sugar, water, vinegar and salt to 270 degrees F. Remove from fire, add butter or margarine. Dip apples into syrup, covering entire surface, with glaze. Place on waxed paper to cool.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes, oatmeal with milk, cinnamon toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Baked eggs and spinach with cream sauce, apple and bran muffins, butter or fortified margarine, fruit cup, milk.
DINNER: Beef pie with mashed potatoes (left-over beef from pot roast), green peas, jellied orange and carrot salad, bread, butter or fortified margarine, sponge cake, coffee, milk.

Local Department Names Physicians For Hygiene Work

In order to expedite the performance of emergency mental hygiene commitments in the county the County Health Department has established a procedure and named several qualified physicians who have been designated as assistant health officers for Ulster county for the performance of emergency mental hygiene commitments anywhere in Ulster county. While any one of the physicians on the list may be called in an emergency, it is suggested that the closer physician be summoned. The fee for such physician will be certified by the Ulster county judge when the fee cannot be collected from the patient's relatives.

The assistant health officer performing the emergency commitment will attempt to secure examination by two qualified examiners so the court order commitment may be produced within a few days after the emergency commitment.

Those physicians who have been designated as assistant health officers for the performance of emergency mental hygiene commitments are:

Drs. Charles Beattie, Walkill; Julius Blakeley, Highland; H. L. Ebbly, Kingston; Hugh S. Chidester, Saugerties; Elwin W. Champin, Fleischmanns; Hans J. Cohn, Woodstock; Virgil B. applies to determine whether people are Communist.

"Well, I would consider attendance at a meeting where Paul Robeson is appearing, applauding him, and listening to his Communist songs would be a good one," Menjou replied. "I'd be ashamed to be seen in such an audience."

Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee, put the transcript of the secret hearing into the record when Menjou was called to reaffirm his previous testimony and elaborate on it.

In anticipation of the appearance of the actor, spectators lined up outside the committee hearing room more than an hour ahead of opening time.

Most of them were women, anxious for a glimpse of the famous little mustache and for a peek at the other celebrities attending the sessions.

Opinions on Figures
The transcript disclosed that Menjou, along with his views on Communism, gave the subcommittee some opinions on Hollywood figures. He said:

Of Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Producers Association: "I think he is running for the presidency. He will never get it."

Of Charles Chaplin, the actor: "The only gun Mr. Chaplin ever heard of was a pop gun in his studio, yet he is a military expert and a financial expert."

As for individuals with un-American leanings, Menjou's words to the subcommittee was this: "We have many, many dangerous directors and actors."

He told it:

"They made a picture called 'North Star' on orders from Washington. I am told, I have no proof. It was a dreadful picture that drew a picture of Russian life as idyllic."

The order, by John Howard Lamon to the Screen Actors Guild were in every picture put in key principles of propaganda, particularly in the expensive set, so that it cannot be refuted. That was their orders."

Menjou arrived about 10 minutes before the hearings were opened. He wore a brown pin-striped suit and heavy shell-rimmed glasses.

He took the committee he had no control over. "I think I can speak for myself."

"I am a motion picture actor," he said when asked his profession.

Menjou answered preliminary questions with a short, machine-gun yes-yes.

He said he has made a special study of Marxism, Socialism, Communism and other "isms."

Blames Alcoholism
On Social Attitude

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—Alcohol is not the cause of alcoholism, says Seldon Bacon, professor of sociology at Yale University. He told a lecture audience at Roosevelt College last night.

"If alcohol were the basic reason for making alcoholics, this country would have 55,000 alcoholics."

"It is as wrong to say that as it is to say that there are automobile accidents because there are automobiles or divorces because there are marriages."

Alcohol is not a cause, but simply a necessary condition to becoming an alcoholic."

He said one of the universal symptoms of alcoholism is an anti-social tendency.

Professor Bacon is chairman of the Connecticut Committee on Alcoholism.

New Forest Fires
Fire wardens in various sections of the county were called upon to supply assistance for new fires reported in three separate areas.

One fire was reported under way in Zena, another near Shokan and a third in the Gardiner region. The latter two, it was feared, might develop into serious conflagrations.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Stocks continued to advance on a selective basis today although further light selling handicapped many market leaders.

Dividends, earnings and general business optimism persisted, as buying inspiration for favorites. On the other hand, professionals who had extensive profits on the recent upswing inclined to cash in because of the belief that, even if a real bull market is under way, a technical correction might be in the offing.

Dealings speeded up at intervals, with low and medium-priced issues coming out in sizable blocks, but activity frequently tapered. Trends were moderately mixed near the fourth hour.

International Telephone was the fastest mover, up about a point at one time in reflection of a possible merger with Raytheon Mfg. Ahead fractions to a point or so, some at 1947 peaks, were Pacific Western Oil, Standard Oil (N.J.), American Woolen, Armour, Cudahy, U. S. Steel, Inland Steel, Union Carbide, American Can, Mission Corp., Great Northern Railway and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Bonds were spotty and commodities higher.

I.T.U. President Says

Hearing Proves Labor Case

Baltimore, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Woodruff Randolph of the International Typographical Union said today that the first N.L.R.B. hearing in which a union is charged with unfair practices has served to prove "the Taft-Hartley Act will not work."

Randolph, who is expected to testify later at the hearing, in which his International Union and Baltimore Local No. 12 are charged with failure to bargain in good faith, made his statement in an interview during a recess.

The I.T.U. president, whose union last August laid down "conditions of employment" under which members would work instead of negotiating written contracts, said the new labor law "compels antagonism" and thus defeats its purpose.

"Labor contends that the Taft-Hartley Law was a slave labor act," Randolph said. This case is proving that the Taft-Hartley Law will not work."

"The law attempts to transfer collective bargaining," he added, "to 'Czar Denham' (Robert N. Denham, chief N.L.R.B. counsel, and others). Neither place is a fit place for employers and unions to come to any kind of agreement."

The very atmosphere of these places compels antagonism."

The I.T.U. traditionally has operated under closed shop conditions, barred by the new law. The conditions of employment were posted in the union hall.

Randolph's statement was made while Francis E. Street, executive secretary of the Graphic Arts League, was repeating the league's version as to why negotiations with some 300 union printers in Baltimore became deadlocked after last started in September.

Cross-examined by Jacob J. Edelman, counsel for the Baltimore union local, Street said the league filed its unfair charges September 12 because there was no bargaining in the real sense of the word.

He said that Charles V. Brannock, local president, had handed him the conditions of employment on a "take it or leave it basis," and although Brannock later said he would sign a compact if it were a complete agreement, there never was any such agreement.

Will Consider Extension
Of 40-Hour Work Week

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—A suggested lengthening of the 40-hour work week as a step to spur production will be considered in connection with a congressional study of the wage-hour law, Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.) said today.

McConnell is chairman of a House labor subcommittee which heard the idea advanced by Peter T. Boardley, an attorney representing the American Trucking Associations, Inc.

Boardley said his group feels that Congress may want to raise the regular work week to something higher than 40 hours.

"Without going into an extensive discussion of the matter, it seems to me the fact that now, of ever, more and more production is needed if this country is to accomplish what apparently is cut out for it in the way of alleviating distress conditions the world over," Boardley told the committee.

McConnell declined to express any view on the suggestion.

105,000 Pheasants Released by State For 1947 Hunting

Albany, Oct. 20—The New York State Conservation Department game farms smashed all existing national pheasant production records this year and 105,192 full-winged birds already have been distributed for today's hunting opening, it was announced by Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea.

In addition, 4-H and sportsmen's club cooperators have released approximately 65,000 young pheasants reared from day-old chicks and eggs supplied by the Bureau of Game Farms, for a grand total of 170,192 pheasants—another national record. Private sources are estimated to have stocked an additional 20,000—making New York's stocking effort unsurpassed anywhere.

"This record game restoration program provided a real shot in the arm for pheasant populations at a time when Nature has been handicapped by an uninterrupted series of unfavorable nesting seasons and by other adverse factors," said Commissioner Duryea. "The joint effort of our game farm personnel, sportsmen cooperators and the 4-H boys and girls rates special commendation."

The new distribution record was made possible by a 20 per cent increase over last year's game farm production, it was explained. The farms also distributed 100,625 day-old pheasant chicks and 36,266 eggs to sportsmen cooperators and 4-H cooperators.

Elect Directors
Other business scheduled will be the election of six additional directors and another report by the membership committee.

The report on membership is expected to disclose that the K.A.A. has reached the halfway mark in its goal to enroll 1,000 members for its $1,000 junior baseball program in the summer of 1948.

Since several persons already have joined the K.A.A. but have not received their membership card, a welcome is extended to all sports-minded persons of the city to attend the meeting. Anyone interested in joining the K.A.A. who has not been contacted by a club member is invited to attend and sign up at the meeting.

Report on Leahy
Further developments will be heard on the testimonial dinner for Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame scheduled in Kingston on January 6, 1948. The Notre Dame mentor already has agreed to the date. This affair, expected to prove the greatest in the K.A.A.'s history of outstanding sports functions, will attract Notre Dame alumni from all over the Hudson valley.

Dick McCarthy is chairman of Leahy Dinner Committee while Nick Amato, a Notre Dame graduate, is handling contacts with Fighting Irish alumni of the mid-Hudson area.

Odell Hints Yale Lost Touchdown Against Badgers

New London, Conn., Oct. 21 (AP)—Head Coach Howard Odell of Yale, commenting on his team's 9-0 defeat at the hands of Wisconsin last Saturday, expressed the opinion in an address at a meeting of the Touchdown Club here last night that Yale was deprived of a touchdown in the early part of the game.

Odell was giving a running commentary while showing motion pictures of the game. He asserted that a Wisconsin defender actually intercepted a Yale forward pass on the Wisconsin 5-yard line and then fumbled the ball while starting a runback. The picture showed a Yale player recovering the ball behind the Wisconsin goal line. This, said Odell, should have been ruled a touchdown.

The officials ruled that it was an incomplete forward pass and brought the ball back.

Odell also told the club members that he planned to start Fitzgerald at fullback in place of Levi Jackson Saturday against Springfield, Jackson, said the coach, had been "slow in rounding into shape."

Holyoke, Mass.—Phil Burton, 144, New York, outpointed Jimmy Collins, 143, Baltimore, 10.

Lack of Housing,

City may pass legislation over the veto of the mayor. The council functions through regular and special committees appointed by its president, the alderman-at-large.

Much of the detailed work of the council is carried out by those committees and decisions are reached in controversial matters after the holding of public hearings.

If you, the voters of Kingston, honor me with the position of alderman at large, I shall give my very best efforts to the office. I shall conduct the meetings fairly and impartially, the same as John J. Schwenk, and shall try to be as valuable a public servant. As he steps aside this year to give someone else a chance, I'm sure the citizens of Kingston agree that he has manifested great devotion to their interests and the interests of the city.

Discusses Housing
And, now, let us consider the problem of housing.

It is as an employee of one of the local savings and loan associations of Kingston that I shall refer to low-cost housing, a subject close to the hearts of those interested in the welfare of the veterans and others seeking homes.

My position enables me to learn at first hand about the trials and tribulations of those trying to find homes in which to live and rear their families. In Kingston, we face an acute and serious housing shortage. Young couples contemplating marriage are forced to put their weddings off. There are no places for them to live. Many are compelled to live in crowded quarters with relatives after their marriage. As you know, this isn't too desirable an arrangement, and something should be done about it.

It is up to those responsible for running our national and city government to take action. We are, of course, grateful to our state government for building, at a cost of approximately $250,000, an emergency veterans' housing project. But this takes care of only 50 families. There are many others who need homes. True, our city administration gave the site for our veterans' housing project. I'd be unfair if I didn't mention this. BUT, THIS PROJECT DOES NOT SOLVE OUR HOUSING PROBLEM. FURTHER ACTION IS NEEDED, SORELY NEEDED.

Like many of you, I was hopeful we would get some low-cost housing in Kingston when the mayor appointed a local Housing Committee. But, nothing happened, that is, in the way of houses. In fact, we didn't even get an action. Well, about a week ago, the truth came out. Mr. Sam Doyle, whom the mayor appointed as chairman of the committee, resigned. Why? He was tired of all the stalling. This prominent Hudson Valley Labor leader wants to get things done. In his own words, he said: "I'm nobody's stooge. If this Housing Committee isn't going to act, then I'm resigning." He did. And, in his letter announcing his resignation, Sam Doyle charged that the Mayor failed to call meetings of his committee to act on housing.

This is a sad state of affairs, fellow Kingstonians! Don't consider it lightly. The futures of many families are at stake while somebody dallies.

I wish our Mayor would display as much interest in low-cost housing as he has in one other building project. For instance, he took part in the breaking of ground for the new bowling alley being built on Grand street. I am glad to see this, because I'm a bowler myself and know that the private interests doing the building will try to serve the interests of those participating in the nation's No. 1 sport.

Now, wouldn't it be nice if the mayor took as much interest in low-cost housing?

Some of our bowlers need homes, too, just as much as they do place to enjoy their favorite pastime. It's nice to shake their hands as they collect trophies at annual banquets for prize winners. And, it would be equally as gratifying for him to visit a low-cost housing project and wish them happiness as they entered homes—homes they and their friends need.

My running-mate, Oscar Newkirk, likes to see $250,000 bowling alleys built, too. But I know from my association with him in this campaign he's equally as interested in seeing homes go up in Kingston for our citizens. I can assure you he would not appoint a housing committee, then sit tight.

The Democratic term candidate had his chance and did nothing. Why not give Oscar Newkirk a chance? He's young and full of pep and ambition. Let's march forward! I know he's planning right now to do something about low-cost housing. Mr. Newkirk knows about that $135,000,000 the state will provide for low-cost housing, if you voters pass that bond issue at the polls. Vote for it. And vote for Newkirk, too. He'll see that Kingston gets its share of the money. Let's stop talking about low-cost housing—get down to business and start building homes.

When the Democratic fourthterm candidate took office in 1942, we had a fine system of parks. And the Kingston Municipal Stadium. He allowed some of our well-kept parks to go to seed. This would never be. I was in Lawton Park this summer and the grass was knee-high. The tennis courts at Forsyth Park have almost entirely disappeared. The people in the Third Ward had to put up an awful fight to get Hutton Park opened. Barmann Park has been taken over by the Pilgrim furniture factory. Loughran Park was turned over to the Veterans' Housing Project. An admirable gesture, but where are the children going to play? The mayor has intimated that he could not properly maintain parks because of lack of funds. Frankly, I cannot understand this excuse. I have looked at the city budget for 1941, the year before the mayor took office. That year, $21,000 was appropriated for parks, playgrounds and recreation.

Then, I compared those figures with the appropriations in the 1947 budget. This year, the mayor received $49,000 for the same purpose. The increase represents $28,000, or about 130 per cent. Now then can the Mayor say he did not have money enough to do the job, with a bigger allotment and fewer parks? And, don't forget, that in 1947, the State Youth Commission gave Kingston $2,300 toward recreation as part of a state program of aid to local communities. The State did this with the end in view of helping combat juvenile delinquency.

Ladies and Gentlemen, I have given you the facts. You may draw your own conclusions. The Republican Party established and developed the park and playground system in this city. I appeal to all believers in good clean recreation for youth to consider the Republican Party as the medium to prevent further decline in our park system. The best way to prevent further decline is to retire the man responsible for it, when you vote on Election Day.

Vote for Oscar Newkirk for mayor and support the entire Republican ticket. Don't forget, it is you taxpayers and rent payers who deserve your money's worth. Go out for that low-cost housing and better parks for the children of our city. Vote Republican on Election Day.

Scout Field Day and Commissioners' Meeting

Kingston Scouts, Scouters Have Busy Week-End

This past week-end found the Senior Scout Leaders and Commissioners' meeting on Friday evening with George Chronic, national director of Senior Scouting, and Major W. C. Woinowski, Air Corps Liaison Officer to the Boy Scouts in Region 2. These two experts on Senior Scouting were of the opinion that Senior Scouting would succeed much better if the young men members of Senior Scout units were given the opportunity of planning and working out their own programs with the guidance of their Senior Scout advisors. They likewise stressed the importance along this line of training for the Senior Scout advisor as well as all Senior Scouts in the fine points of Senior Scouting. New methods and procedures were outlined by Mr. Chronic and Major Woinowski discussed with the commissioners their responsibilities as far as service to Senior Scouts goes.

The second big event of the week-end was the Kingston District Boy Scout Field Day held at Forsyth Park, Kingston, all day Saturday. The loud speaker system at the grandstand enabled all Scouts to hear distinctly the instructions and announcements. The Red Cross emergency hospital was on hand in case it should be needed but fortunately it was not needed. This vehicle was manned by Mrs. William Merrill of Kingston. The Scouts arrived in the morning at about 9 o'clock, at which time they started the setting-up of their camp sites, so that they would be ready for the Patrol Cooking Contest at noon. This particular contest was very difficult to judge because every outfit there did such an outstanding job of doing their own cooking. After dinner, the new Scout drills were demonstrated by each unit and that was followed by the competition on the setting of a compass course and the final event was the demonstration of the property equipment for a five mile hike. These three events are three of the new requirements for Second and First Class rank. On the basis of the total points won in all four events, Troop 1, which is sponsored by the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, was first and received the Elston trophy; Air Squadron 3, was second, Troop 6, third and Troop 12, fourth. Silk ribbons were awarded for the last three places. The judges were Carlton Taylor, district commissioner, Charles Back, Richard Ruth, Francis Bourke and George Mustaparta, neighborhood commissioners.

of distribution, not supply. He said the Columbia School of Medicine did not have a quota system and practiced no racial discrimination.

His statement was challenged by Eugene P. Connally, American Labor Party representative and New York city councilman.

Connally declared that the Cornell and Columbia medical schools had a quota system and prior to 1945, burned their application records.

Rappleye said Columbia, since its founding, had burned its application records after enrollments were completed. The practice was discontinued during the war, he added.
